Director's Note

My main exposure to the Vietnam experience was through the eyes of a 13-year-old boy watching his older brother putting away his high school football and seeing him board a plane in route to Vietnam. Memories of our mother still haunt me as she would set up her ironing board every evening in front of the family television. This ritual gave her hands something to do while she silently watched Walter Cronkite deliver the daily causality report from Vietnam. There were no emails, texts, or Facetime to keep in touch. Only the evening news offering any peace of mind that your son was not a part of a deadly conflict.

The Vietnam War claimed the lives of more than 58,000 American service members and wounded more than 150,000. And for the men who served in Vietnam and survived unspeakable horrors, coming home offered its own kind of trauma. They had abuses hurled their way and others remember being spat on. As a military force, Vietnam veterans were met with none of the fanfare and received none of the benefits bestowed upon World War II's "greatest generation."

This is by far the most personable and meaningful production I have ever directed. It is with great honor and humility that MTVarts presents "Welcome Home."

We're more than just your accountant...

...we are your competitive edge.

GWEN BRADY (Child): This is Gwen's third show with MTVarts and fourth time on stage. Previous stage credits include Gretl VonTrap in The Sound of Music, the littlest munchkin in The Wizard of Oz, and Tiny Tim in A Christmas Carol. She is a second grader at East Elementary School and lives in Mount Vernon with her three siblings, mom, and dad.

ASA CORMIER (Staff Sgt. Cane) is thrilled to be back with MTVarts since last performing in their first production, Beauty and the Beast. Asa is a Worship Arts and Ministry Major at MVNU and has performed in many different theater productions such as Oklahoma, Three Sisters, Les Miserables, Little Women and Lil Abner, just to name a few.

JEFF DALEY (Airplane Captain) is a pilot for Delta Airlines and has been flying aircraft for 30 years. He worked as a member of the stage crew and the flying team that made Dorothy, the Witch, the Monkeys, and Crows fly in the MTVARTS production of The Wizard of Oz. NIGEL DAVID (Captain Branson) is currently employed in the information technology (IT) field but has aspirations to be a professional actor. His big break in the community theater space was in the lead role of Walter Younger in MTVarts' production of A Raisin in the Sun. He was last featured in Stage Right Theatrics' production of When Your Soul Cries, a play about a significant and yet nameless moment in civil rights history, in the role of Jerome Smith. You can next catch Nigel David in MadLab's Theatre Roulette this fall. Enjoy the show!

IAN FRASER ERNSBERGER ("Sugar Bear" Avery, voice of Bill Conry) says it's great to be back in the Memorial Theatre and in front of an audience. On top of his excitement for the return of live theatre, Ian is more so enjoying his newest role as Father to his beautiful daughter, Anastasia. And after over two years, he will be returning to both the Memorial and Alcove stage this fall and winter. As always he wants to thank his family for all their support and his co-star for life Kate.

Although he has had the pleasure of playing some pretty delightful and challenging characters over the years, nothing is more rewarding and enjoyable than sharing the stage with so many amazing and talented actors while bringing to life such an important story. This show is made even more special for him because his two youngest sons are members of the cast. Steve would like to thank the entire MTVarts community and staff for putting on yet another incredible show, the Mount Vernon community for supporting live theater, and his wife, Kellie for always supporting him in every adventure each new show brings. Thank you and enjoy the show!

with his first performance with MTVarts as the role of the insanely "charming" Gung-Ho Tucker; as well as work alongside the incredible cast and crew of this phenomenal show!
